

FOUNDATION CHURCH 2025 Bible Reading Guide

How much better would your life be if you invested time into your relationship with Jesus this year?

So, let's spend the year with Jesus.

As we read the Gospels together in 2025, we'll get to know Him better so we can follow Him more closely so we can love Him more deeply.

We will read a passage a day for five days a week. Life happens, and you will likely get behind in your reading. That's okay. We've given you a few extra days each week for catch up, prayer, and reflection.

If you want to listen to the reading each day, you can find our daily podcast by searching "Foundation Church Daily Bible Reading Podcast" on Spotify or anywhere you listen to podcasts.

MARK

This gospel was written by Mark in AD 55. Mark looks at Jesus' life through what he did. He often portrays Jesus as a servant. Watch for Mark's use of the word "immediately" and his focus on Jesus' miracles.

Read each passage slowly. Ask God to speak to you from His Word. Read the passage a second time. Then ask:

- What is this passage about?
- What does it tell me about Jesus?
- How did Jesus interact with people?
- What does God want me to do as a result of reading this passage?

LUKE

This gospel was written by Luke to a Greco-Roman audience between AD 59-63(ish). Luke portrays Jesus' life through how He feels. As you read, notice how Luke emphasizes Jesus' humanity and His role as a teacher. Watch for his use of the phrase "Son of Man" and his focus on the parables.

Read each passage slowly. Ask God to speak to you from His Word. Read the passage a second time. Then ask:

- What is this passage about?
- What does it tell me about Jesus?
- How did Jesus interact with people?
- What does God want me to do as a result of reading this passage?

MATTHEW

This gospel was written by Matthew to Jews around AD 70. Mark looks at Jesus' life through what Jesus said. He highlights Jesus as King. As you read, watch for the often repeated phrase "Kingdom of heaven" and the emphasis on Jesus' words through His sermons.

Read each passage slowly. Ask God to speak to you from His Word. Read the passage a second time. Then ask:

- What is this passage about?
- What does it tell me about Jesus?
- How did Jesus interact with people?
- What does God want me to do as a result of reading this passage?

JOHN

This gospel was written by John to the church in AD 85 or sometime after. John focuses his gospel on who Jesus is. As you read, notice how often John uses the word “believe,” as well as his focus on Jesus’ teachings. John’s gospel is different from the others in that he highlights Jesus’ ministry in Judea, not Galilee.

Read each passage slowly. Ask God to speak to you from His Word. Read the passage a second time. Then ask:

- What is this passage about?
- What does it tell me about Jesus?
- How did Jesus interact with people?
- What does God want me to do as a result of reading this passage?
